One of the coconut trees near the pond was thunderstruck. It was headless trunk for a long time and there were at least three parrot nests on its top. I have seen many parrots entering the holes and coming out to bring food to their little ones. One day, the tree was being cut. I rushed to the sight and begged the tree cutters to spare the trunk as it was a home of many parrots. But I was laughed at and tree fell with great thud. I ran to the top end to see two just hatched chicks thrown out of their nests and smashed to death. I looked into all nests and saw smashed eggs in two of them and little chick in other one. Fortunately, the little one survived the fall. I brought it home.

OR

- a) Paraphrase the following poem. [10]

Joy and woes are woven fine
Clothing for soul divine
Under every grief and pine
Runs a joy with silver twine
It is right, it should be so;
Man was made for joy and woes,
And when this we rightly know
Through the world we safely go

- b) Make a precis of the following and give suitable title. [10]

Prevention is always better than cure. It is recognised that the only way to completely get rid of malaria is by getting rid of mosquitoes which cause it. This disease is always associated with damp and marshy lands. It is not because the land is damp and marshy but because the static water is breeding place of the mosquitoes which begin their life cycle as a larva in the water. Malaria does not frequently occur in dry desert country because mosquitoes cannot breed in such regions. Preventing the breeding of mosquitoes in static water is the only way to destroy them. Open water vessels should be covered in the breeding seasons with the film of kerosene oil which deprive the larva of air and kills them.
